

You're Invited

Student Research & Innovation Day

Wednesday, April 4, 2012

fanshawec.ca/SRID

Please join us in the 1st Annual Research and Innovation Day at Fanshawe College and view the work of the most innovative and creative Fanshawe students

On April 4, 2012, Fanshawe College will host the first annual Student Research and Innovation Day in the James Colvin Atrium of our London Campus. This event will feature the research and innovation work by students from across the College who have submitted their capstone, team, degree, and course projects for display and evaluation. The students will showcase their work to the College community, as well as the London corporate and industrial sectors. We would be happy if you could attend our event on April 4th, and if possible, have a tour of the College while here on campus.

There will be presentations in the various categories of Arts/Humanities, Media and Design, Business, Health Sciences/Human Services, and Science/Technology. The projects will then be evaluated on format, layout, logic of presentation, and the presenter's ability to answer questions about their work. There will be prizes in every category in the range of $1,000 for 1st place, $500 for 2nd place, $300 for 3rd place, and $100 for participants.

When: Wednesday, April 4, 2012

Time: 1-2:30pm (Welcoming, Keynote Speaker, Q&A, and Refreshments)
2:30-4:30pm (Student Presentations)
4:30-5pm (Judging and Awards Presentation)

Location: Colvin Atrium (Fanshawe College, London Campus)

This is the first time Fanshawe will host an event like this, and we look forward to giving the College and the London area business community an opportunity to interact with some of Fanshawe's most innovative and creative students. Your presence would be very much appreciated.