PERSONAL SUPPORT WORKER

Learn how to provide personal care for clients in retirement homes, long-term care facilities, hospitals and in the home. Develop the knowledge, skills, and attitude for assisting others with the tasks of daily living. In addition to classroom instruction, you will complete a community placement, where you will get valuable experience providing care to clients.

Just the facts:

- Graduation rate: 84.8% (2010-2011)
- Salaries & Wages: $10.75/hr – $21.00/hr (2009)
- Trends: GOOD – The growth of the health care sector and the expected expansion of long term care facilities in the next 3 years should increase employment opportunities.
- Job Titles: personal support worker, health care aides, patient service associates
